GREEN NETWORK GATHERING - WEAVING A GREEN WEB
Easter Weekend in Glastonbury

The last few years have seen a massive growth in new green groups and projects, many of them working outside the framework of major national organisations. At this Gathering we plan to begin developing more effective communications - sharing ideas, resources, energy and mutual support.- between such groups.

The preliminary agenda includes workshops on local green groups/networks, fairs and gatherings, community centres, local magazines and other areas which will help facilitate the growth of a more effective grassroots movement. We don't want to pre-plan too much however, and are leaving space for spontaneous workshops and discussions on matters of more general interest, including the red-green dialogue, and spirituality and politics. A full agenda and domestic details will be sent to all those who book.

We are not, however, planning a weekend of just business. There will be a party on the Friday night, Green Gathering videos and a ceilidh on the Saturday night, meditation on the Sunday and plenty of time on Bank Holiday Monday, when the formal agenda is over, to explore the myths and legends of Glastonbury!

Cheap vegetarian and vegan wholefood will be available in the excellent Assembly Rooms café. Accomodation will be on the floor of friends in the area or in bed & breakfast. Please make your own arrangements if you can. A creche will be provided. If you would like to offer help/suggestions for workshops etc. please contact the address below.
